Partnership Working; Improving Children and Young People's Services

The recent assessment of local children and young people's services found that Leicestershire's safeguarding work with children and young people was good with;

- Arrangements for safeguarding children and young people being good and ably supported by strong partnership working
- An outstanding Local Safeguarding Children Board, which is forward looking, efficient and meets its targets well
- A good range of effective multi-agency early intervention and preventative services.
- Children and young people at risk of immediate harm being effectively identified and protected
