Did you know?

The Millennium Mile project was initiated by a suggestion from a school boy, in response to a questionnaire circulated by Millennium Celebration, Market Harborough who were responsible for co-ordinating the town's year 2000 festivities.

On Saturday, January 8th 2000 the people of Market Harborough opened the Millennium Mile with a mass walk .

Part of this cycle route follows the National Cycle Network 6 and 64

Welland Park is a great location for a picnic, with plenty of open grass area for games

Worth a Visit

The series of 10 locks at Foxton are one of the most spectacular and interesting sites on Britains canals. Remnants of the inclined plane can be seen on the hillside.
